All the tools you need in one place.

Product Manager

Consolidate product data from multiple systems. Enrich data with limitless attributes, tailor product information and synchronise inventory and pricing.

Automation Engine

Create rules to automate product behaviour. Optimise how a product is viewed with personalised product titles, content and pricing per channel.

Channel Manager

Connect all channels across a commerce ecosystem - business systems, sales channels, websites, marketing channels and suppliers. Facilitates the transfer of data through the centralised commerce hub.

Order Manager

Manage orders from all sales channels in one place with easy fulfillment workflow. Enable click & collect, ship from store, cross border, endless aisle and instore returns.

We knew from the first demonstration that Comestri, as a commerce hub, suited all our data transformation needs, from product information management to data orchestration and channel management.

It's the third time I've worked with them and that's saying something.
